

EHS Management Systems

Improve the management and communication of EHS information with centralized information management tools using Microsoft® SharePoint® technology.

Tellevate's consultants have extensive experience assisting diverse client organizations to solve their environmental, health, and safety (EHS) management and compliance challenges.

Tellevate strives to simplify EHS management systems and improve EHS compliance with streamlined, value adding program management strategies and tools. Our EHS management system implementation approach includes:

- Assessing existing EHS management processes and programs to develop recommendations for improvement (gap analysis)
- Developing a customized EHS management system using the ISO 14001/OHSAS 18001/ISO 45001 standards as a general framework and integrating our clients' existing EHS requirements and program information
- Utilizing Microsoft® SharePoint® to build a complete EHS management system, which can be hosted on our clients' existing computer networks or externally
- Performing and documenting a risk assessment of the organization's key EHS risks using our standard risk rating methodology
- Developing organization EHS goals (objectives and targets) and action plans
- Cross Functional Team development, facilitation, and training
- Providing hands-on training to managers, EHS teams, supervisors, and other key staff in the implementation of the EHS management system, EHS programs, and applicable requirements
- Management team reviews, briefings, and training

A formal EHS management system using Tellevate's proven approach will help you to:

- Ensure EHS risks are properly identified, prioritized, and proactively managed
- Improve EHS performance and ensure operational sustainability
- Provide management assurance that regulatory requirements have been identified and processes are in place to achieve and maintain compliance
- Capture the institutional knowledge of experienced staff and ensure EHS requirements are documented in a formal system
- Promote transparency internally and externally and establish credibility with client stakeholders
- Ensure that EHS considerations are part of critical business decisions
